The recent passing away of a brother who, unfortunately, left his wife and two babies unprotected, not to mention a mortgage on the home, should serve as a warning to other brothers who are careless enough to be similarly situated, when life insurance is so easy to secure. What kind of husband is the man who would leave a devoted wife to turn her tear-stained face away from her coffin to look into the door of a county poor house? Mrs. W. L. B. Lawrence Dies at Her Home, Hillsdale, Tenn., Aged Seventy-Six.

(Nashville Tennessean.)

Mrs. Corinne Lawrence, widow of W. L. B. Lawrence, died at her home on the Grassy White pike in this city at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the seventy-eighth year of her age, her death which was very sudden being due to heart failure, superinduced by grip and rheumatism. This announcement will be received with profound sorrow by a wide circle of friends, for Mrs. Lawrence was one of the best known and most generally beloved residents of the city, where she was born and where her long life was spent.

Mrs. Lawrence had been a sufferer from rheumatism for years, but with this exception, until she suffered an attack of grip a few days ago, she was apparently in her normal condition, and her death came as a severe shock to the members of her family. Mrs. Lawrence was born at Rocky, December 19, 1835, the daughter of Rev. Oliver Bliss Hayes, who before he entered the Presbyterian ministry was one of the most prominent lawyers of Tennessee.

Her mother before her marriage was Sarah Clement Hightower, both Mrs. Lawrence's parents being of prominent Tennessee families. Mrs. Lawrence was one of six children, but she was the last surviving member of her family.

Sisters of Mrs. Lawrence were Mrs. George W. (Laura) Shields, and Mrs. Adeline Cheatham, formerly Mrs. Achen, who built Belmont, for years the most imposing residence of Nashville. Her brothers were Oliver B. Hayes, Henry M. Hayes and J. Addison Hayes, whose son bears the same name, married the daughter of President Jefferson Davis. He is a banker of Colorado Springs.

In 1855 Mrs. Lawrence was married to William Luther Bigelow Lawrence, a son of W. P. Lawrence and a member of a prominent family of this city. The following year they moved to Hillsdale, on the Grassy White pike, and there Mrs. Lawrence resided until her death.

Their farm embraced a large part of the land now within the limits of Waverly Place.

Mrs. Lawrence died on June 2, 1902. In her youth, Mrs. Lawrence was noted for her beauty and was one of the most popular belles of Nashville. She was highly cultured, of generous and charitable disposition and possessed many admirable and lovable traits of character. Mrs. Lawrence is survived by the following children: Mrs. Adeline Quarterman and Mrs. Sarah L. Alexander, who resided with their mother at Hillsdale; Riskey P. Lawrence of this city; Dr. Wm. P. Lawrence of Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. Ben B. (Katie) Poyntz of Maysville, Ky., and Mrs. S. Waers (Georgia) Howe of Orlando, Fla. She is also survived by a large number of grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Mrs. James B. Wood of this city is a granddaughter of Mrs. Lawrence.

As one who knew and loved Mrs. Lawrence, I wish to bear testimony to the pure nobility of her character. The years of her life were replete in her love for her God, her church and her fellowman. I thank God for the blessing, the rich heritage of her life, so sweet in her happiness in doing good, in giving pleasure to others and whose life so beautifully testified to the love of God in her soul. Truly, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one cure for that terrible disease, Catarrh, which has been able to cure in all its stages, and that Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars to anyone who can cure a case of Catarrh that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

REPORT OF CITY MISSION

For Months of November and December Most Gratifying and Shows Great Scope and Success of This Benevolent Institution.

The following report of our City Mission work for the months of November and December, is respectfully submitted to the citizens of Maysville, who by their generosity make this work possible.

The industrial school attendance is most gratifying. It is not unusual to have an attendance of sixty-five eager, earnest pupils in this important branch of the work.

The Bible School grows in interest and attendance.

On Thanksgiving Mr. Hal Curran gave a reception at the Home in Sutton street, which was a great success from every viewpoint.

After a social hour, there was served refreshments, consisting of cake and ice cream. This was followed by several numbers of well-selected music on the Victrola, kindly lent for the occasion.

Later in the evening Misses Wilson and Tully added to the pleasure of the occasion by timely recitations. Mr. Curran was voted an ideal host by the happy crowd, as they wended their way back to their homes, and to their appointed tasks on the morrow.

A closet at the Home was set aside as a loan closet, for the visiting nurse, and fifty dollars donated by the Board of City Missions, to buy sheets, pillow cases, and night clothes to be used by Miss Casey in her conscientious and efficient care of the sick, who lack such necessities.

During the month of November, Mrs. Brock and Miss Hurd in their untiring efforts for character building and better citizenship, made one hundred and eighty-four calls.

They disposed of one hundred and eighty-three garments and sent out thirty-eight baskets of supplies.

The Christmas work was more far-reaching than ever before and 'tis hard indeed to put on paper an adequate account of its activities. Among the donations we wish to acknowledge the following sums of money:

Fifty dollars from one source, ten from another and various checks for smaller amounts from friends of the work. One generous heart sent two bags of potatoes, thirty packages of coffee, sixteen bags of flour, fifteen boxes of sugar, forty cans baking powder, thirty-five cans mixed nuts, one bucket coconut bon bons, two buckets chocolate and mixed candy, with crackers, cakes and fruit in proportion with the wish that his gift might make some Christmas cheer.

The donation of new clothing by one of our merchants was much appreciated and placed where it would do the most good, in most cases being sold for nominal sum, the money placed in other parts of the work.

The Christmas tree was largely attended and those present can testify to the creditable manner in which the Christmas carols and recitations were rendered by the children, drilled as they had been by our never tiring Miss Hurd.

Mrs. Brock and Miss Hurd, after all their extra-Christmas work was done, realized more than ever that the world-old message, "Unto us a Son is born, unto us a child is given," comes down through the ages with its never failing thought of peace and joy, gaining in strength as the world appreciates the practical application of the message.

KAISER DOES MAN'S WORK.

Potsdam, Germany.—Emperor William, for several days past, has joined his day laborers in sawing and splitting wood on his imperial estate surrounding Sans Souci Palace.

He was advised by his physicians to take a course of manual labor. Accordingly, he spends every forenoon in the grounds, working zealously with the laborers.

His majesty is said to take great pride in piling the fuel into neat heaps which he then presents to the laborers for use in their homes.

GO-TO-CHURCH-SUNDAY CAMPAIGN IS APPROVED.

Boston.—Reports received at headquarters of the Christian Endeavor Society here indicate that the suggestion that Go-to-Church-Sunday campaign be made a national movement has met with encouraging response, according to a statement from William Shaw, general secretary of the society.

Among messages informing the plan, given out were those from Vice President Marshall and Govs. P. L. Goldsborough, of Maryland; George W. Hays, of Arkansas; E. M. Ammons, of Colorado; William Hedges Mann, of Virginia, and Martin H. Glynn, of New York.

"COULD EAT A KEG OF NAILS," SAYS MAN

Strange Boast of Dyspeptic Who Says a Year Ago He Could Not Eat Toast Without Suffering.

So enthusiastic are many former sufferers becoming over the remarkable results they have derived from the use of the new Root Juice treatment that some very amusing boasts are heard.

A well known man who attributes his cure of long standing chronic stomach trouble to the use of the juice treatment says he feels well enough to "eat a keg of nails." "Why a year ago," he said, "I could not eat even a piece of dry toast without suffering afterwards. I had scarcely no appetite at all and what little I was forced to eat in order to keep alive, would ferment in my stomach, form gas and cause my stomach to bloat and puff up till I thought it would burst. I would belch up gas and partly digested food, had frequent bilious spells, headaches, and was nearly always constipated. I got sick and tired of trying different medicines for nothing did me any good. I got so I felt about half sick all the time. I lost my ambition, became so nervous that I worried and fretted about everything. A friend wanted me to try the Root Juice treatment, but I said no, I've wasted enough money. Finally, however, I did get some and to my surprise it acted like magic charm. I don't know when I'd felt hungry before, but after a few doses I ate enough for two men. Then I was scared for I began to think how I was going to suffer. But another surprise awaited me for although I did suffer slightly, it was nothing as compared to my usual distress. Well, I've taken several bottles now and really do feel like I could eat a keg of nails, but I guess I'll try to be satisfied without them. I never suffer any more, I eat everything I want and I feel fine. My head feels clear and I get up in the morning refreshed after a good night's sleep. I would not take five hundred dollars for what the juice has done for me."

It is said at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store that many local people who have been using the Root Juice for indigestion, backaches, rheumatism, and other forms of stomach, liver and kidney disorders report the most gratifying results.

"Troubles are like babies. The more you nurse them the bigger they grow."

Postmasters for Paris, Frankfurt and Owenton are expected to be appointed shortly.

The search of the late Cardinal Rampolla's apartment, so far has failed to disclose the box which was supposed to contain his will.
